I've built software professionally since 2021, from Sarajevo, for teams in Germany, Switzerland, the UK, Luxembourg and the US. I design and build the report-builder application at LibLynx, an identity and analytics platform whose customers include PLOS, The Economist Group and Digital Science. I'm CTO at DIN Solution, an international FinTech consulting firm, where I set technology direction and run software delivery. At Neo Labs, a four-person AI company, I engineered the customer-facing platforms of two AI voice products. My core is frontend architecture in React, Vue 3, TypeScript and Next.js, with backend work in Laravel, Flask and Node. Before that: internal tools for ProCredit Bank, two years with Bloola on projects for German enterprise clients, and an OpenAI integration for a Swiss legal-tech product.
